Fintech digital lending as we know it today was born out of the great recession, had a surge of explosive growth during the pandemic, and now as the economy returns to normal has become a fixture in the accounts receivable management space. On this webinar our panel will discuss current trends in fintech lending, performance, regulation, recovery and debt sales. We will examine how the space has evolved in the past few years and what the near term may look like as consumer stress continues to increase in the current economy.
