

What Drives the Auto Finance Asset Class

October 4, 2023 – 9:00am PT/12:00pm ET

One (1) RMAI Education Credit

RMAI's Auto Finance Working Group identifies issues particular to the auto debt market; develops auto finance issue briefs, best practices, and education for members, and provides education to the auto finance industry on the nuances of the sale and collection of auto accounts. In this webinar, presenters from the working group will update attendees on the auto finance asset market and preview the soon-to-be-released primer paper covering such topics as data and documentation, chain of title, and best practices. They'll also share their expertise for how best to break into (or stay) in the auto deficiency market.

Course Presenters:

	Alan Hochheiser is a leading practitioner in the areas of creditors' rights and bankruptcy law. He advises and represents businesses, regional and national banks, credit unions, equipment lessors and other lenders, as well as secured and unsecured creditors. Among his accomplishments, he has successfully resolved non-dischargeable claims based upon fraud conversion and breach of fiduciary issues and has successfully handled the assumption of leases in the bankruptcy of a major airline.
	David Lippman is the Managing Partner of Lippman Recupero LLC, who leads a nationwide collection and litigation agency and law firm that specializes in debt and subrogation recovery. With over 18 years of experience as an attorney and over 40 years of experience in the collection industry, David has developed a strong expertise in creditors' rights, insurance subrogation, commercial and retail collection law, property management, product liability claims, and FDCPA defense. David holds a JD from Suffolk University Law School, a BS in Computer Science from Northeastern University, and is licensed to practice law in several states, including Arizona, Utah, Washington, Oregon, and Texas. I am also a certified CLE instructor by the State Bar of Arizona.
	Brett Soldevila serves as the Chief Compliance Officer for Security Credit Services, LLC, a receivables management company for consumer and commercial defaulted receivables. Prior to joining Security Credit Services, Brett served in the internal audit department of a global consumer and commercial services company, and in the audit & enterprise risk services department of a professional services firm. Brett is a Certified Public Accountant, Certified Fraud Examiner, and Certified Receivables Compliance Professional. Brett was elected to the RMAI Board of Directors in 2017 and currently serves as President Elect. He previously served as the Chair of the RMAI Certification Council and the RMAI Certification Standards Committee.
