CCO Webinar Series: Building a Risk Assessment and Audit Program Tailored to the Size and Scale of your Organization

October 29, 2025 – 9:00am PT/12:00pm ET

One (1) RMAI Education Credit

Sponsored By:

In today's ever-changing regulatory environment, assessing, monitoring, auditing, and remediating the risks facing your organization is essential. Understanding functions and how to tailor to the size and scale of your organization is fundamental.

During this session attendees will explore the distinctions between audit, both internal and external, monitoring, and risk assessments. Attendees will also learn how to evaluate and implement remediation programs in use today by their industry compliance peers.

The session will cover best practices for internal monitoring, preparing for various audit types (regulatory, client, RMAI, and internal), and using root cause analysis to drive continuous improvement. It is tailored for compliance professionals, internal auditors, and operational leaders seeking to strengthen their organization's audit posture and risk management capabilities.
